LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

Xmas is only 27 days away.

According to telegrams received here 2nd Battery from Gleichen has arrived in England. The Battery have been in Eastern Canada for many months and it was somewhat of a relief to the people of the town and district to learn the boys were safely in the Old Country.

Wm. Busby, engineer at the Indian hospital, was knocked down by bull one day last week, in the yard near the hospital and suffered only a few minor bruises. An Indian who was nearby at the time used a hand saw to effectively on the animal that his attention was diverted from Mr. Busby and gave him a chance to escape.

A very enjoyable evening was spent last Thursday when a large number of neighbors and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klein east of Chazy to bring some beautiful gifts and lots of good wishes to the newly married couple. With music and gaily the evening soon passed. A beautiful luncheon was served and all departed at a late hour wishing the bride and groom the best of luck. The bride was formerly Miss Ruby Dingman of Gleichen.

Net proceeds from the dance held on October 26th, by the Auxiliary Red Cross was $114.50. We would like to extend a very sincere thank you to the donors for their donations, to the ladies who helped with the supper and to Bob Brown who made a grand job being master of ceremonies. In general we say thanks to the public who turned out and made our dance such a success. With this success behind us we are looking ahead to doing more work for such a good cause—AUXILIARY RED CROSS.

In Abyssinia South African military forces were advancing when they saw large clouds of dust rising in the air. Thinking it was the Italians, they sent out patrols to investigate and, if necessary, blast the enemy. The patrols found a man with a pipe in his mouth casually driving a huge road scraper. On being asked what he was doing he replied "I am a broad Ooroo." Free State sent out a patrol to see, man, I was not here to make a road, and here I am. Only 15 miles ahead of the main advancing army.

John Plant is home on furlough for a short time. He has been located in Eastern Canada with the army for some months past.

A short time ago a circular letter was sent to those who should be interested in the appearance of the cemetery. The letter was an appeal for funds and is as follows: "The Gleichen cemetery is in a very poor condition, and no doubt you will be interested in seeing what can be done to improve it. The signers of this letter have met the town council and have the assurance that if sufficient money can be raised to improve and beautify it, a good water line will be made available. You as plot holder are asked to contribute the sum of $2.50 per year for each lot. If sufficient money is raised this year to justify proceeding with the program of improvements will be held in a cemetery trust account and will be subject to the annual audit by official auditors of the town. Please make all cheques and money orders payable at par to the Town of Gleichen and marked Cemetery Account. With your cooperation this cemetery can readily be made a place of quiet beauty and rest. J. Scott, G. W. Beattie and G. H. Goodrich." The response was very good, in fact it was disappointing, only one person contributed. As a fund, Friday night a meeting was held at the town office and after a couple of hours spent looking over the property book and discussing the raising of money no decision was reached. The matter will be gone into again on Friday night whether to make another appeal for funds or drop the matter.

Old Timers Association Banquet and Dance Friday Night

Red Cross Sponsoring Both Banquet and Dance
For First Time. Reports Indicate Large Crowd Will be in Attendance

It was in December 1925 that the first Old Timers' dance took place in Gleichen and since that time it has been an annual affair. The dance has always been attended by a very large crowd of old and young people. Friday night the 16th annual get together takes place in the Community Hall.

It was some six or eight years ago that the banquet was introduced and the program that followed was always the highlight of the evening. At these banquets and dances the Old Timers were the guests of the Board of Trade. This year the Gleichen Red Cross is sponsoring the whole evening's entertainment. Anybody, whether Old Timer or not may attend the banquet, but all will be required to pay 50c. As the money realized is going to a worthy cause the Old Timers will not begrudge the money spent.

T. H. Beach president of the local branch of the Red Cross, will be chairman at the banquet. Following is an outline of the program: Speakers Col. Tomlinson, Commissioner Alberta Division of the Red Cross, Dr. A. W. Park, Red Cross superintendent and district administrator of Department National Health, and vice president of the Alberta Division of the Red Cross.

J. A. McLeod, president of the Alberta Division of the Red Cross and manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., will be in charge.

H. H. Riley, secretary of the Alberta Old Timers Association.

A musical program will also be provided. At the dance which follows the Old Timers will be the guests and will not be required to pay an admission. But the Junior Old Timers will have to pay just the same as the general public. The money realized from the dance will also go to the Red Cross.

Art Bremner, who has played for every Old Timers dance here, will be on hand again with an orchestra known as Bremner's Military Band. From reports to hand it is indicated that a record crowd will be on deck to celebrate the evening. Good weather will have a lot to do with the attendance.

ALL SIXTEEN YEAR OLDS ARE REQUIRED TO REGISTER

Satisfaction has been expressed by Hon. J. T. Thomson, Minister of National War Services, at the manner in which the youth of Canada is responding to the regulation calling for all persons to fill out national registration forms upon reaching the age of sixteen.

According to the bureau of statistics 222,000 persons in Canada reached the age of sixteen during the past year. Of this number, approximately 112,000 were male and 110,000 females.

"Records of the National Registration Bureau for the same period indicate that the number of new registration forms reaching Ottawa compare favorably with these figures," said Mr. Thomson.

The registration of all persons in Canada upon reaching the age of sixteen is compulsory and penalties are provided for those who do not observe the regulations. Forms are available at post offices throughout the Dominion and postmasters have been instructed to explain them to those who wish to register. Separate forms have been provided for those who pose their cards, and it should be made known to the postmaster which type is desired.

Records of the Old Timers gathering are nearing completion—assuring everyone good entertainment, good food and good fellowship. The visiting Red Cross headquarters last week your convener was assured of the appreciation of all the staff, the quality of the quality and quantity of the finished articles sent in from Gleichen. Special mention is made of the very fine hospital quilts which are needed in quantity for the new emergency hospitals.

Nora: I think Mack must have a lot of untidy officers in his regiment. Nora: What makes you think so? Nora: We have been written and told me that he has had to clean up the officers mess again.

PROVINCE WIDE RECRUITING TOUR PLANNED AGAIN

Another province wide recruiting tour will be undertaken by 12 recruiting missions, commencing December 1. Major J. Gilmour, M.C., district recruiting officer has announced. The itinerary of the parties has been drafted and released. Practically every town in Alberta will be visited during the campaign. One of the purposes of the drive is to contact men who were engaged in harvesting operations during the last drive and to recontact men who had expressed a willingness to join up when approached during the last drive and who have not yet reported for duty. There are also a number of recruits throughout the province who were rejected in earlier medical examinations and are now acceptable for enlistment due to a lowering of the previous standard in regard to slight eyes and ear troubles. These men may now be re-examined with every chance of being accepted.

Lieut. W. J. F. Emale will be in charge of the recruiting mission in the area and will be leaving on the morning of December 4th. For dates and time of visits at surrounding towns see advertisement in this issue.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Work of Alberta's forestry radio service was outlined to Edmonton clubmen last week by A. Ekanahwa, provincial radio superintendent with the department of lands and mines. Radio control of forest fires was inaugurated in 1938, he said in place of the old telephone system. Youths were selected for training in the dominion-provincial youth training classes and obtained their operators' licenses. The system proved to be more flexible than the old one. Magnitude of the work carried out by the branch was shown in the statement that more than 2,000 telephone calls of logging operations are carried out yearly.

Alberta's tourist season just ended was the best in provincial history, according to A. A. McNell, secretary-manager of the Alberta Motor Association. In his annual report to the association Mr. McNell said the 1941 estimate of tourist spending was $7,500,000 more than 2,000,000 increase from the previous peak year. A.M.A. figures also added that 1941 the greatest year of activity. "Last year 13,592,539 tourists visited Canada. This was 2,000,000 more than the population of the country, and they left behind them a stream of gold amounting to $127,890,000 of new revenue for the province. Alberta holds first place among tourists, and will become a mecca of attraction in a few years.

Call for a plebiscite on the proposal to proceed with the enlargement of gunnery units was voted by delegates to the 33rd annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipalities in Edmonton. Hon. Lucien Maynard, explaining that the change would be made under legislation already debated in the legislature, said the government would consider the proposal. President Paul L. Farnalis urged delegates to debate with free minds and fair play. "When we ask to be relieved of a responsibility, we must assume that it implies the surrender of a right," he said, referring to the provincial assumption of certain social services.

Arrival in Hong Kong with the Canadian force of Major C. A. Lyndon, former Alberta Live Stock Commissioner, was made known last week. Major Lyndon went on active service immediately on war's outbreak and served in Iceland and Britain, returned to Canada for a staff course, and now is on his third war front. Brigade major of the Edmonton garrison in 1939, staff officer in M. D. H. C. a motorcycle unit in Britain are some of his roles to date.

More than 50 farm youths registered for the training course at Gleichen and Bow Island youth training centres for training farm mechanics. It was announced last week by department of agriculture officials. The youths will train for six weeks under the dominion-provincial program.

2 + 2 = 5

Everyone knows that four dollar bills don't usually add up to five... BUT the WAR SAVINGS certificate which costs you four dollars makes this kind of arithmetic come true.

Yes, and every four dollars you send to Ottawa actually gets behind a gun and shotgun. It buys vital war equipment of some sort. It helps shoulder the war. After this war, you get FIVE DOLLARS, not four dollars. Thus right now, your savings are helping to win and they're helping to build a nest-egg for yourself.

Round up Ogden's for a Real Smoke

Take a tip from old timers who have been rolling their own for twenty years or more. Their brand is Ogden's and they wouldn't think of smoking anything else. They like it because it has a taste you can't match—a taste which comes from its distinctive blend of choice, ripe tobaccos. Try it. You'll find it's not just another tobacco—it's Ogden's.

Only the best cigarette tobacco is used in Ogden's. It's the good enough for Ogden's.

The Value Of Freedom

We are still living in a free country, where the individual can do as much as he pleases, always providing he keeps within the law. Notwithstanding the fact that we are engaged in a death struggle with a fanatical and implacable enemy whose aim is total regeneration, we still have a godly measure of freedom. How do we appreciate the freedom that we have come to accept as our inalienable right? History tells us that we have been doubly privileged since the road along which democracy, as we know it, has travelled has been long and arduous. We have inherited the freedom we now enjoy, through the sacrifice and suffering of those who have gone before us down through the centuries, and through the signing of Magna Charta at Runnymede in the year 1215. It well becomes us to pause and consider these rights and privileges we have inherited, and which many of us apparently so lightly assume. Perhaps because we are so far removed from the scene of conflict, safe in the security of our homes, the full import of this war has not yet seriously disturbed our equanimity. In a spirit of business as usual, we go about our several ways. Canadians who have visited the United States have remarked on the apparent apathy of the people at home.

This Freedom

The freedom we now enjoy is a precious thing. The public were enjoined by our government to cut down on the consumption of gasoline in order that the falling supply might not cripple our war effort. Many people took the request to heart to such good effect that there was a reduction of some fifteen per cent. a short time after the announcement was made. Others quite heedlessly continued to carry on much as usual, as there was no law against indulging in joy rides. As a result a system of rationing with limit this freedom of purchase. We have been asked to voluntarily limit our purchases of non-essentials, but it has been found necessary to place certain restrictions on our habit of spending. And so it may well be that the seriousness of this war may be brought home to us by further restrictions. Certain individuals here and there may grumble and resent this regimentation as an interference with their accustomed rights. But we cannot make the necessary contribution to our war effort if we continue to make the same old mistakes. We must be prepared to sacrifice and amusement, or to the purchase of many things that are not of vital necessity. The small contributions of the many are of greater importance than the larger contributions of the few.

Equality Of Sacrifice

It would appear that any sacrifice we are called upon to make is a small contribution towards the realization of our freedom and all that it means, and to the many who may have yet been little touched by the horrors of war, a small sacrifice in comparison to that of the men who are wearing the King's uniform, and who have left their homes to go overseas in defence of their country. The call has come to them to volunteer for service, and they have responded nobly to that call. Yes, they are a large company who have joined the army, navy and air force, and at this moment risking their lives for that liberty they so prize. But many more men are needed to ensure victory, and if sufficient men are not willing to volunteer their services, the time will no doubt come when conscription of man power may be found necessary. A considerable feeling is evident in this country that equality of service and sacrifice will be essential for an all-out war effort on the part of Canada.

Longest Telephone

Line Stretches 6,000 Miles From Moscow To Siberia

The world's longest telephone line, the carrier system connecting the entire breadth of the Soviet Union, is among the first recipients of British supplies for Russia. The system stretches for 6,000 miles from Moscow across Siberia to Khabarovsk, just north of Vladivostok. Several conversations can be carried over it on the one line, a great economy for long distances.

Maintenance equipment is now on its way from the British telephone engineers who were given the original contract. They were also responsible for the network of defence communications which played such a large part in winning the battle of Britain last year.

The present order was given in February last and delivery was promised for this autumn.—British Industries Bulletin.

Essential For Peace

The most essential condition for peace was that the Baltic sea should be dominated by Germany and, more, said Dr. Stefan Litauer, Polish newspaperman. The Baltic is guarded by the British fleet, he said.

Dominates Situation

Canadian Writer Says British Have Every Confidence In Churchill

Grattan O'Leary says the British people draw a sharp distinction between Prime Minister Churchill and his Government. The line is more sharply drawn than it is in this country, between premier and cabinet.

The confidence which the British people have in Churchill is never in doubt, Mr. O'Leary believes one can tell it shortly after landing in England. He dominates the situation and the people are willing that he should, but they do not desire the aid of a good many of his cabinet ministers.

During the last war Lloyd George had with him Bonar Law, Churchill, Birkenhead, Carson and Mr. O'Leary is certain Churchill has not such men with him today. Of Mr. Deakin, who fathered the great strike of 1926, Mr. O'Leary heard much.

It was considered a great move to have such a man in the cabinet, and undoubtedly it was a wise thing to do, but the indications are that Deakin will carry him. Lord Beaverbrook is reported to be the one man who argues with Prime Minister Churchill. In some parlance they go to the mat repeatedly, with Churchill accepting about out of ten of the suggestions which Beaverbrook has in mind.

But no government ever had the policy which is reserved for Prime Minister Churchill to-day. He is the Lloyd George of the previous war and he is actually a great deal more.

Could Claim Mileage Record

Man Has Travelled 84,580 Miles In Twenty Years For Haircut

Whenever J. A. Carroll, of St. Stephen, N.B., needs a haircut, it involves travelling 242 miles. The reason is that he is a telegrapher, has been doing this travelling for the past 20 years. He boards a train for St. John, N.B., in the morning and arrives there late at night, following this practice rigidly and at the rate of about every three weeks. For the time he spends at the family residence he has covered 242 miles by train, in addition to several miles of walking during the day.

The haircutting has always been done in one barber shop in St. John, which is one barber—John McGuire, whose shop is near the railway station. If McGuire is busy, there is a lay-out ahead of him. Carroll waits for an opportunity to sit in the boss barber's chair instead of that of an assistant. He has about an hour to kill, anyway, before he catches a train home.

In explanation of why he makes the rail jump to St. John, just for a haircut, Carroll says he likes McGuire's haircuts and McGuire is the fastest man on his feet in the barber trade anywhere.

Incidentally, Carroll might claim the mileage record among haircut seekers in the world—a total of about 84,580 miles in the 20 years he has been railing to and from St. John just for the hair operations.

Blanket Appeal

Red Cross Blanket Appeal For 1941 Successful In Its First Stages

The opening days of the Blanket Appeal for civilian sufferers in Britain, launched by the Canadian Red Cross Society, October 25th and to continue indefinitely, attracted an excellent response from individuals and branches throughout the Dominion.

Saskatchewan Red Cross headquarters to date has received 325 blankets, donated, 1,170 quilts donated, and 1,000 blankets, for which $2,000 has been received from branches and individuals in the province, and which has been remitted to National Office for the purchase of these blankets for immediate shipment overseas.

Outstanding among these recent donations to provincial headquarters are two hand-made quilts, the work and donation of Mrs. R. T. Edwards, 1308 Cornwall Street, Regina, at the age of 92.

Commissioner W. F. Marshall reports from a recent visit to the Red Cross branch at Kennedy, further instances of unusual work being done by the hands of faithful women. Mrs. Dally, a Belgian lady, resident of Kennedy for many years, has completed her one-hundredth quilt of Red Cross socks for 1941, also at the age of 92. Mrs. Worne also of Kennedy, a ranchman, having turned in her forty-fifth pair of socks since January last. This constant faithfulness of young and old, is greatly appreciated by the society.

No Shortage Of Bread

What Britain Needs Most Is Milk; And Protein Foods

The ministry of food envisions the United States under the lend-lease program as a gigantic milk can, perhaps a vast butter tub or maybe even an egg basket, rather than the breadbasket for democracies that some Americans are reported talking about.

There never has been a shortage of bread here. What Britain needs most and hopes to get are milk and a variety of protein foods.

That is the explanation, from the ministry's viewpoint, of a seeming discrepancy between Prime Minister Churchill's cheering announcement that Britain's food reserves are higher than at the outbreak of war, and warnings from United States officials that Americans must curtail their consumption of some foods in order to help feed the British nation.

"We need evaporated milk first and above all," an authorized ministry source explained. "After that, we need other foods rich in proteins—bacon, cheese, butter, other milk products, beans and eggs."

Requires Lot Of Nerve

Straight Air Gunners Sit At Tail End Of Bombing Plane

Here's a word for young Canadians who like to borrow a phrase from Air Minister Power, have clear eyes, nerves of steel and a clear eye: Your chance in the air is coming; the chance to be a "Tail End Charlie."

He told the Commons he believed certain Canadian-made aircraft could be modified and substituted for types difficult to obtain from Britain so Canada could train a type of pilot "to which we are not at all committed" under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

"I am referring to pupils such as the straight air gunners—Tail End Charlies, they call them," said Maj. Power. "They sit at the tail end of the bombing machines, with all heaven above and all hell below. They require clear grit; they must have nerves of steel and a clear eye."

The last, time anyone bothered to figure it out there were 742 persons to the square mile in England.

Entertain Airmen

The City of Nelson is Performing A Valuable Service

Seldom does the British Columbia city of Nelson hear the tramp of marching feet or the drone of planes overhead, but its citizens have heard, and heeded, the call of Canada and the Empire. Nelson is performing a service on behalf of our armed forces which has, perhaps, no parallel in the entire Dominion.

Airmen of British, Australian, New Zealand and our own Canadians, training under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, are being fed by Nelson's populace. Engaged in the grim strenuous work that must accompany a full war effort, the men need, at times, rest and relaxation. The rail fares from prairie schools are not high and when the airmen arrive in Nelson, all their expenses for recreation and living cease.

This has been adopted by Nelson as a way of saying "Thanks" to the men who will in the future be actively participating in the theatre of war. The town and all its facilities are thrown open to the visitors. They are housed in the homes of the people, fed and furnished with every opportunity for enjoyment and recreation. This is a noble gesture on the part of the entire population, and it doesn't cost them a dime, except, of course, for personal purchases.

The idea was conceived by a Nelson boy in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He suggested in a letter home that some of his chums might accompany him. The vacation was so successful that the public minded citizens saw the opportunity for the major war effort which they had sought so long.

Contacts with air training schools were made, particularly No. 34 Service Flying Training, Medicine Hat, Alberta. Many Empire airmen are trained at this school.

The plan is operated by what is known as the Nelson Citizens' Committee. From the time a group of trainees step from their train to the station platform until they leave the town, their entertainment in view.

Buffalo Herds

20,000 Wood Buffalo In Northern Alberta Park

The spirit of Walking Coyote, the Indian, is glad.

In 1874 Walking Coyote captured four young buffalo calves in the Milk river district near the international boundary in Alberta. He took them to a mission in Montana where they were treated as pets until they were mature when they were sold to ranchers who established a buffalo herd.

From that stock the Dominion government in 1906 purchased 431 head of buffalo to establish a herd in Canada and re-establish on Canadian soil the plains buffalo once so numerous that a missionary, standing on a hill near Calgary many years ago, said he could see at least a million grazing on the prairie grass.

Mines revenue officials say their latest figures from Elk Island National park in Alberta, now the chief plains buffalo sanctuary, showed there were 1,656 healthy animals there.

The Wood Buffalo park in far northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories are the wood buffalo with their herds have been identified in plains buffalo. They are estimated to number more than 20,000.

Fur traders officials said that the Canadian buffalo herds are in perfect health, as on the advice of outside specialists, surplus and undesirable animals have been killed. This has meant the elimination of disease without impairing the vigor of remaining herds which multiply in the areas set aside for them.

The I.O.E. of Kirkfield, Manitoba, a well known town, collected 26 and a half tons of scrap iron and steel, which brought in $156 for war charity.

The Red Cross of Welwyn, Saskatchewan, made a drive for scrap metal, collected 44 tons, and raised $300 for its war work.

"These are only a few of the 227 local committees active in the Dominion," said Mr. Knightley, "Many more returns are available in our files."

The director concluded with the warning: "Much more needs to be done. Newspaper reports are now making headlines of the dangerous shortages pending in various raw materials. Salvaging secondary materials is a benediction of the human race—Chamford."

To not average one's self upon one's enemies, is the command of almighty God. We must take this as a safer guide than the promptings of human nature.—Mary Baker Eddy.

This work can never be done by force, nor by fear, nor by power. In the long run nothing conquers but ideas, nothing governs but the Spirit.—Leacock.

Compulsory Registration

All sixteen-year-olds are Required to Register

Satisfaction has been expressed by Hon. J. T. Thomson, Minister of National War Services, at the manner in which the youth of Canada is responding to the regulation calling for all persons to fill out National Registration forms upon reaching the age of sixteen.

According to the Bureau of Statistics, 22,000 persons in Canada reached the age of sixteen during the past year. Of this number, approximately 10,000 were males and 11,000 females.

"Records of the National Registration act," said Mr. Thomson, "indicate that the number of new registrations forms reaching Ottawa compare favorably with these figures."

The registration of all persons in Canada upon reaching the age of sixteen is compulsory and penalties are provided for those who do not observe the regulation. Forms are available at all post offices throughout the Dominion and postmasters have been instructed to explain them to those who wish to register. Separately, the forms have been provided for those who lose their cards, and it should be made clear to the postmaster which type is desired.

Floating Foundries

Britain Has Ships On Which Repair Parts Are Made

Britain's floating foundries are doing a bang-up job of keeping the warships of the Mediterranean fleet in top shape.

Behind every battleship, cruiser, destroyer, submarine or smaller warcraft going to sea, there is a depot ship, turning out everything needed, from bread to nuts and bolts.

The fighting ships in the Mediterranean have their own mother ships in Alexandria harbor constantly on the alert to deal with any job except major refitting or actually making hulls and shells.

Aboard a 10,000-ton depot ship for destroyers where a rear admiral directs all destroyer operations, 1,000 men are kept busy repairing a few hundred of men repairing destroyers in fighting trim.

Deep in the ship there was a foundry, with yellow flames licking upward, where steel and iron are melted and turned into two parts. It reminded me somewhat of a steel mill, with sailors striding to the waist, their bodies glinting with perspiration, hammering out the ship accessories.

In other parts of the ship I visited the shipwrights' section, where the pine-land atmosphere, where wood parts are produced; and workshops of the cooper'smiths and electricians.

Above decks the ship's bakery turns out tons of bread to supply the destroyer's several crews, torpedoes boats and minelayers.

Sailors on the depot ship even find out what torpedoes they need. They take out one of a torpedo and overhaul its driving machinery to make sure that it will fire quickly and surely toward its mark.

Nearly 1,000 sailors and 50 officers are engaged on this one depot ship, busy in important jobs which rarely reaches the headlines.

The I.O.E. of Kirkfield, Manitoba, a well known town, collected 26 and a half tons of scrap iron and steel, which brought in $156 for war charity.

The Red Cross of Welwyn, Saskatchewan, made a drive for scrap metal, collected 44 tons, and raised $300 for its war work.

"These are only a few of the 227 local committees active in the Dominion," said Mr. Knightley, "Many more returns are available in our files."

The director concluded with the warning: "Much more needs to be done. Newspaper reports are now making headlines of the dangerous shortages pending in various raw materials. Salvaging secondary materials is a benediction of the human race—Chamford."

The Invasion Of Russia

By Lt.-Gen. Sir W. Douglas S. Brown

High Former Quartermaster General Of The British Army

Hillier has boasted that he is attacking on the Russian front with 2,000,000 men, and this gives us an easy mathematical problem. Two million men on a 2,000-mile front gives an average of 1,000 men per mile.

I am not suggesting that the German forces are evenly distributed over the whole front, but this is the mathematical sum which the German quartermaster-general has to solve—how to accommodate, in the depth of the Russian winter, 1,000 men on every mile of a 2,000-mile battle front.

To bring up the material for huts and all the necessary trench stores from Germany and Poland would strain to the breaking-point the already overburdened Russian railways in the rear of the fighting troops. We have only to cast our minds back to the question of the Russian winter, to realize the impossibility of supplying 2,000,000 men on a 2,000-mile front.

By long and poor rail communications; supplying them, that is, with everything approaching adequate for the first few days of the campaign, for during the far greater rigors of a Russian winter.

It is true that northern Russia is a vast area, but it is a vast area of timber needed for making huts could be obtained, but there is also the question of heating them when they are erected. There is only one satisfactory answer to the problem, and that is the provision of huts; but these are only to be found in sufficient numbers in the large towns and cities. The German High Command provides the amenities of towns and cities before winter sets in.

If the German armies are to be retained on their present front in anything like their present numbers, thus Moscow and Leningrad assume a new importance quite apart from their value in many other connections. If Hitler can destroy or disintegrate the Russian armies, he could safely withdraw his troops from his troops to winter in Poland or Germany, or use them for operations in North Africa. But if they are to remain in Russia, as fighting forces he must have cover for the winter or else reduce his forces below the safety margin.

Groom Brides Bride On Instalment Plan In Hel Islands

The Field Museum of Natural History at Chicago offers the information that brides are purchased on the instalment plan in the Koi Islands of Netherlands East Indies.

The groom and the bride's father agree on a price—sometimes reaching the equivalent of $5,000. The groom makes period payments with such media as silver money, gold, and other valuables.

Have Gone Modern

Girls In Ireland Wear Native Dress Only On Holidays

Even in the rural areas of Ireland where the younger women have abandoned the picturesque national dress for the lighter, streamlined fashions of Europe and America, natives say that the costume, with its long full-flowing skirt, tightly corseted waist, velvet headband and two long braids down the back, is too cumbersome for native wear. Its appearance now is confined chiefly to holidays.

POLICE MAKING
CHECK UP ON AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

The local R.C.M.P. wish to draw public attention to the following section of the V. and H. T. act:

(1) No person shall walk or remain on the paved or travelled portion of a highway otherwise than close to his left hand edge of that portion and any driver approaching and passing a pedestrian so walking on a highway shall drive as near to the centre of the road as he may safely do and shall pass on the right hand side of such person.

A close check of all pedestrians is being made and transgressors of this Act will be prosecuted by local R.C.M.P.

Motor vehicle operators are also requested to see that their lights, etc., are in proper condition and that a reasonable speed is maintained when travelling along the highways.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

(By H. G. L. STRANGE)

The price of wheat is now the subject of intense discussion. Some are suggesting that wheat should be at parity. What does "parity" mean? Used in this sense "parity" simply means that a bushel of wheat should have the same purchasing power as it had at some previous date. The date usually considered as fair is the crop year 1913-14.

To calculate such parity it is of course necessary to know what the costs now are of the things our farmers have to buy. The Seattle Index, which was started in 1910 with this very object in view, reveals it costs prairie farmers 50 per cent more for the things they have to buy than it did in 1913-14, whereas the price of wheat today is 22 per cent lower than it was in 1913-14, a bushel of wheat today therefore, has a purchasing power of only 61 per cent of what it had in 1913-14.

For a bushel of wheat to have the same purchasing power as it had in 1913-14, the price, therefore, it should be paid would have to be approximately $1.20 a bushel for No. 1 Northern in store for William.

The United States Department of Agriculture in 1934 started an index similar to the Seattle Index. Washington has now decided to restore the purchasing power of wheat and other farm products in the U.S.A. to the 1913-14 level.

OTHER PERSON'S VIEWPOINT

The German viewpoint is: When Nazi flyers bomb England that is war; when British flyers bomb Germany that is murder. Following is a translation of an account in a Berlin newspaper of a British air raid: "It is a English pilot who could only see in the gray light of dawn the effect of their ruthless and indiscriminate bombing of Berlin residential districts they might possibly, if they have even a trace of human heart left in them, be overwhelmed by the horrors of the great crime they have committed."

How strikingly is the Good Book, which says: "Every man is made in his own image; but the Lord loveth the righteous." (Prov. 21:2) Have you noticed that: "When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it's nerves?"

When the other fellow is set in his way, he is obstinate; when you are it is just firmness? When the other fellow doesn't like your friends, he is prejudiced; when you don't like him, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature?

When the other fellow tries to treat some one especially well, he's toadying; when you try the same you are sacking tail?

When the other fellow takes time to do a thing he's dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow spends a lot, he is a spendthrift; when you do you are generous?

When the other fellow is mild in his manner, he is a mush of concession; when you are it is being gracious?

When the other fellow dresses extra well, he is a dandy; when you do, it is simply a duty one owes to oneself?

When the other fellow runs great risks in business, he's foolhardy; when you do you are a great financier?

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are being frank?

When the other fellow won't get caught in a new scheme, he's a conservative; when you won't, you are conservative?

A very strong chinook wind raged through the district all day Monday sweeping with it great clouds of
